

TN Digital FAQ

What is TN Digital?

TN Digital (tndigital.org) is an online depository of all the State of Tennessee's open access learning materials. We are working with publishers to supply teachers, students, parents, and administrators with easy access to their learning materials, which includes everything from lesson plans to worksheets, and from educational videos to assessments.

TN Digital is owned and operated by Tennessee Book Company in partnership with TSBA (Tennessee School Boards Association).

Who has access to TN Digital resources?

Everyone! Just go to www.tndigital.org and search for lessons, publishers, videos. You have access to all our available learning materials.

How are resources being added to TN Digital?

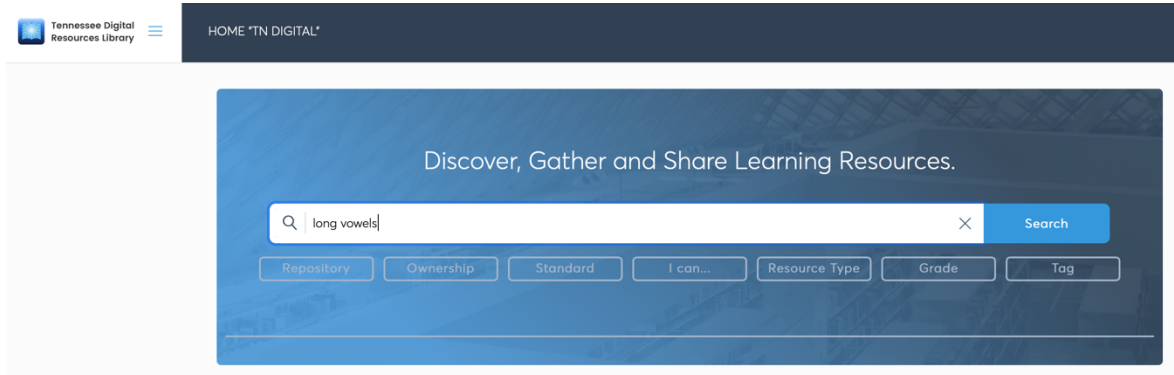

We are working directly with publishers to get all available online content onto the site.

What about printed district packets?

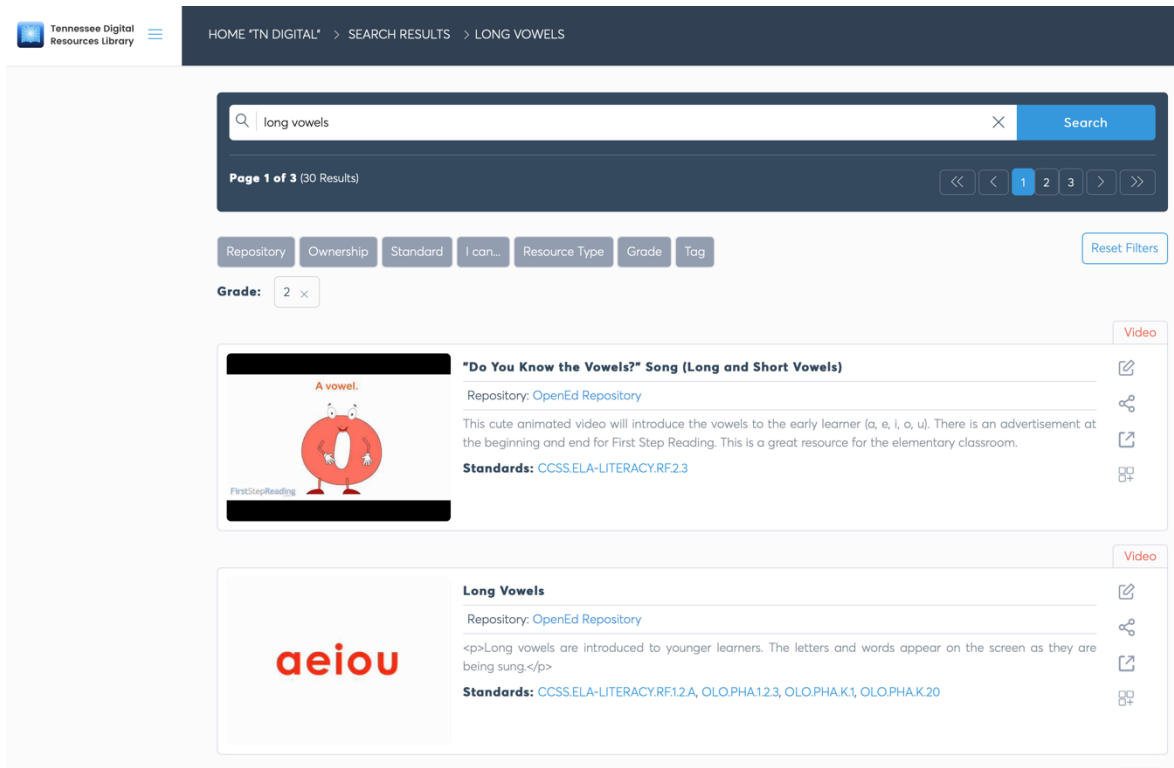

Any school districts that want Tennessee Book Company to host their district print packets online can email Todd Svec at todd.svec@ingramcontent.com. We will make their purchased publisher content available on tndigital.org for easy search by parents and students in one to two days.

How to use TN Digital:

1. Use the search bar to look for content by keyword, title, subject, publisher, etc.

2. Use the filters to narrow your results to a specific grade, standard, or resource type.

3. Click on your resource to begin learning!
